

Women Celebrating Women in Jazz!

With performance ensembles in both Philadelphia & Seattle (& soon in Ottawa!) The Red Rose Jazz Combos highlight the work of women composers and lyricists from the early 20s to today with classic and contemporary Jazz interpretations of the standards, popular music, and their own original compositions.

As an all women's collaborative, we take our name in honor of Violet Oakley and her Red Rose Girls who chose to live and work together in solidarity - focused on their art. We don't live together - but do love working together and love playing great music written by women!

Each exceptional Jazz artists in their own right, The Roses including many outstanding female Jazz musicians. The collaborative performs in many creative formations - always interesting, full of innovation, emotion, and elegance.

The East Coast Roses are available for special concert performances and private events in the greater Philadelphia area, PA, DE, NJ, NY, MD.

The West Cost Roses are available in the greater Seattle & Puget Sound area as well as OR & Western Canada. Reach out! We'd love to come to play for you!

Available for festivals, special concert events & private parties, the project is a collective, including musicians:
